Mail Squawk— But P.O. Is Automating

Arthur Strech showed me a copy of the Aug. 23 First Christian Church bulletin which concluded with this paragraph: "Let us know when you get this newsletter. It took two weeks for people in Texarkana to get their last copy. How long will it be this time?" To tell the truth, this one was handled promptly—and that's new!

Your editor is no lover of big spenders in government but there are exceptions. In a special article Aug. 25 the Wall Street Journal reported the new autonomous government corporation, U.S. Postal Service, has authority to borrow up to $10 billion and is indeed spending it. Automation is the name.

WSJ compresses the postal problem into one paragraph: "Most of the $5 billion pieces of mail delivered each year were collected, processed and delivered by the same methods used a century ago. Facilities were outmoded, with little mechanization. When mail-delivery crises arose the Post Office simply hired more people."

But today the U.S. Postal Service is doing what private business did some years ago—installing every labor-saving device money will buy. Expenditures such as this aren't really an expense; they are an investment. An investment means you have gotten something permanent for your money. In this respect the automating of the postal service joins some other permanent public works: The Interstate Highway System, and the navigation projects which will enable barge freighters to use our vast network of rivers.

Budget OK'd for prison

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — A budget including increases of more than $1 million over each of the next two fiscal years was approved here Saturday by the state Board of Corrections.

Terrell Don Hutto, corrections commissioner, said the increases were needed for capital expenditures, new positions and to offset inflation. A total of 105 new positions are represented by the budget increases, although many will not be employed until late in the biennium, he said. He added that some would be funded through federal aid.

The budget figures approved by the board were $3.6 million for the first fiscal year, compared to $2.1 million approved funding by the legislature, and $3.7 million in the second, compared to $2.5 approved funding. The board voted to ask that a $500,000 bond be established to begin prison industries. The money would be borrowed from the Finance and Administration Department to be repaid over a 10-year period.

Dr. Thomas H. Wortham of Jacksonville said the advisory committee studying medical needs of the prisons recommended that a 35-bed hospital be built at Pine Bluff with the proposed new women's reformatory.

The board also awarded a regional jail planning contract for $80,200 to Comprehensive Professional Services Inc. of Little Rock.

Mills, Fulbright backing McGovern

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Some Democratic leaders in Arkansas expressed support Saturday night for the presidential candidate, Sen. George S. McGovern.

And McGovern's campaign chairman, Lawrence F. O'Brien, predicted the South Dakota senator and his running mate would "electrify this country with the most dramatic come-from-behind victory since Harry Truman sent Tom Dewey back to his Wall Street law practice" in 1948.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills and Sen.

J. W. Fulbright pooh-poohed characterizations of McGovern as a radical and talked of a Democratic presidential victory this year.

The political optimist was expressed at a $5 per person rally by the Pulaski County Democratic Committee.

"Don't be misled by all this talk about somebody being a radical," Mills said. "They told me that Franklin Roosevelt was a radical and that Harry Truman was a radical in some of his proposals."

"Sometimes a man speaks so frankly and comes out so early with his viewpoints that maybe he is ahead of the rest of us and maybe that is true this time," Mills said.

Fulbright said of McGovern: "The only thing radical is that he speaks very frankly and honestly, and, in this (Nixon) administration that is very radical."

The senator said he doubted that Arkansas would depart from the tradition of not supporting Republican presidential candidates. "I don't think Arkansas will be that radical," Fulbright said.

Tallant receives promotion

LITTLE ROCK—Highway Director Ward Goodman has announced the promotion of John Tallant of Hope to Construction engineer of the State Highway Department. Tallant, a registered professional engineer who has been with the department 23 years, is presently local district engineer.

The promotion becomes effective September 16.

UN re-assessment is aim of campaign to cut cost

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States has launched a new campaign to get the American assessment for the United Nations reduced to "no more than 25 per cent" of the world organization's regular budget.

The U.S. tab in 1972 amounted to 31.52 per cent, or $64 million, the highest of the 132 U.N. members.

In his first budget as U.N. secretary-general, Kurt Waldheim has asked the General Assembly to approve expenditures of $224 million in 1973, and increase of 5.17 per cent over 1972.

A highly placed U.S. official told reporters the American move for a reduction "is not in retaliation for things the U.N. has done that we don't like ... although there are individuals in this country who would portray it in this light."

A storm of criticism of the United Nations boiled up in Congress and elsewhere last year when Nationalist China was expelled in a stunning defeat for the United States. The U.S. delegation advised the General Assembly last year that it wanted a reduction to 25 per cent. It renewed the campaign in a memorandum just issued to all members.

The document, which became available for publication today, says that "the position maintained by the United States and a number of other member states in 1946, that it is unhealthy for a worldwide organization to be excessively dependent upon the financial contribution of any one member state, continues to be reflected strongly in American public opinion."

"The view is widely held in the United States that in a virtually universal organization of sovereign, equal states, the total membership must share its financial responsibilities more equitably."

In addition to the budget assessment, the United States pays larger sums in voluntary contributions to U.N. activities.

The memorandum points out that in 1971, for example, "the contributions of the United States to the activities of the United Nations system approached one-half billion dollars, including humanitarian relief."

The memorandum said the U.S. government hopes the reduction in its assessment can be accomplished through the admission of new members and hikes in the assessments of a few members.

All Around Town

Bobcat fans are urged to attend the Bobcats first pep rally Friday, Sept. 1, at one o'clock in Hammons Stadium. All Hope citizens are welcome to attend.

The Hope Booster Club will meet at 7 p.m. in the high school science building. Officers for the coming year will be elected at this meeting. All parents are urged to attend.

Audit of records is requested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Saying the results could be "very revealing," President Nixon's finance committee has asked congressional investigators to audit Sen. George McGovern's fund-raising records as closely as they did the Republicans.

"There must be no reluctance on the part of the General Accounting Office to pursue as vigorously with Sen. McGovern's staff the kind of investigation it has with the Finance Committee," committee chairman Maurice Stans said Sunday.

"We will anticipate a report equally extensive," he said, adding that the GOP has "reason to believe (the Democratic accounts) will be very revealing."

The former Commerce secretary's four-page statement, distributed by Nixon's official Committee for the Re-election of the President, charged that the GAO report was a sloppy, politically motivated job.

"It is apparent that the strong and persistent pressures placed on the GAO by Democratic members of the Congress are responsible to a high degree for the inaccuracies in the report," Stans said.

John Connally, former Treasury secretary who's heading up the Democrats for Nixon drive, said on ABC's Issues and Answers program that the GAO report is a "nettlesome thing."

"I don't think it is going to be a major issue, anything of that kind," the former Texas governor and Lyndon B. Johnson protege said, "but I think it obviously doesn't help."

Elsewhere, President Nixon entertained 400 movie stars and directors at a poolside party at San Clemente, Calif. Today he was scheduled to get a progress report from Defense Secretary Melvin Laird on plans for an all-volunteer Army by mid-1973, and counsel on the next announcement on Vietnam troop withdrawals.

Brushing aside questions about his political ambitions in 1976, Agnew said he has softened his rhetoric and dropped "radical-liberal" from his vocabulary, but will continue to make no mention of Hanoi's shelling of South Vietnamese cities.

attack what he called McGovern's "unbelievable statements."

McGovern, fresh from a quiet weekend with his family in Washington, scheduled a light day today in preparation for what has been billed as a major speech on employment and taxes in New York Tuesday.

Bloodmobile visiting Hope for two days

The Red Cross Bloodmobile is in Hope today (Monday) and Tuesday, with headquarters at the fellowship hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

There will be only three visits this year—in August, December, and March—to secure the necessary 750 pints which will insure the county's continued participation in the program.

Hanoi-Haiphong area is hit hard by jet attacks

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers destroyed or damaged more than 170 buildings Sunday at military camps in the heaviest raids on the Haiphong-Haiphong area in 4½ years, the U.S. Command announced today.

The command said that Air Force and Navy jets attacked 20 different targets in the Hanoi-Haiphong area, including three army barracks, the northeast rail line to China, railroad yards, supply barges, storage and fuel depots, and anti-aircraft missile and artillery batteries.

It was the heaviest attack in the Hanoi-Haiphong area since March 1968, U.S. officials said.

North Vietnam claimed five American jets were shot down and some pilots captured. The U.S. Command made no mention of any plane losses.

Among the raids Sunday was the first attack of the war on the Xom Bai army barracks 37 miles northwest of Hanoi. Pilots said their bombs destroyed 13 barracks and 10 storage and support buildings, and damaged another 46 buildings.

The Xuan Mai military training complex 17 miles southwest of Hanoi and Hai Dong Barracks West, 23 miles northwest of Haiphong also were hit.

The U.S. Command confirmed a report from Washington that a Chinese minesweeper had slipped into Haiphong harbor despite the U.S. minefield laid last May. The Command said the sweeper has been in Haiphong about a week and is tied up next to a Chinese freighter. It said it was "not aware that any mines have been swept," and the Navy said the minesweeper had not attempted any clearing operations yet.

The Command said it had planted new mines "at various locations to cover areas not previously seeded."

The Navy said that the Chinese minesweeper was the only ship that had slipped into Haiphong, and none of the 27 ships there when the harbor was mined had left.

The U.S. Command announced that an American Air Force adviser was killed in South Vietnam Saturday when his small observation plane collided with a South Vietnamese jet near Que Son.

The South Vietnamese were reported driven out of the military compound that was the district headquarters at dusk Sunday after a series of North Vietnamese artillery and mortar attacks and ground assaults. The compound is about the size of an average city block.

The heavy shelling attacks wounded at least 40 South Vietnamese troops, and helicopters trying to evacuate them were driven back by North Vietnamese anti-aircraft guns ringing the town.

Glasgow 'busted'

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "I'll tell you, it was unbelievable," said Roger Glasgow, 32, of Little Rock, an assistant attorney general, in reference to 29.5 pounds of marijuana being found under the backseat of his car.

Glasgow and his wife were returning from a four-day trip to Mexico when he was arrested at the Gateway International Bridge at Brownsville, Tex., Friday and charged with smuggling marijuana. Mrs. Glasgow was not charged.

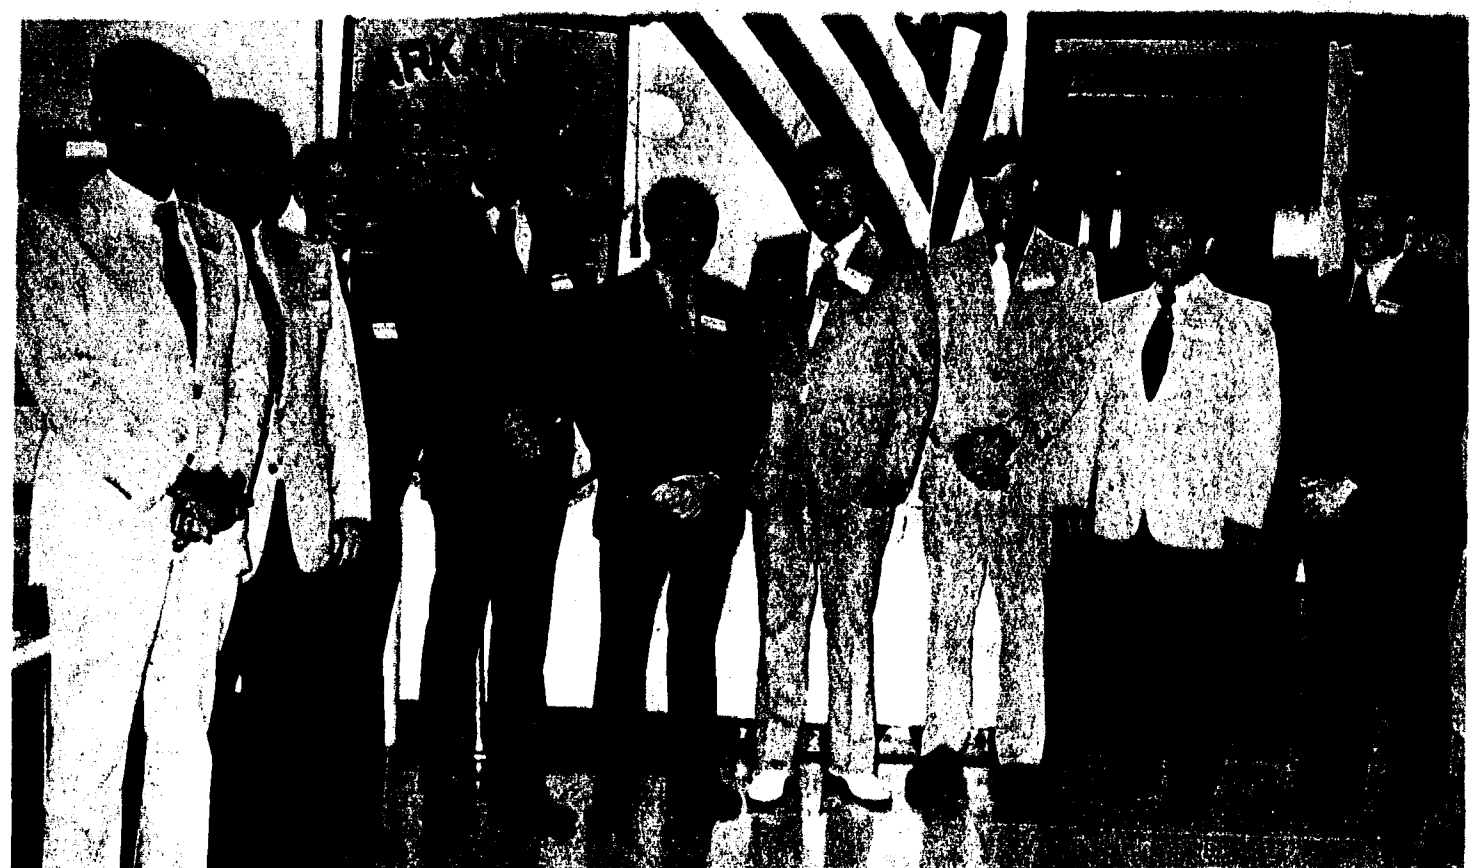

Glasgow, an unsuccessful Democratic candidate for prosecuting attorney of Pulaski and Perry counties in the summer primaries, was released on his own recognizance under $5,000 bond. A preliminary hearing is set for Tuesday.

Asked about the package of marijuana, Glasgow said, "We don't know how it got there. We don't know who put it there. We didn't know it was there until the customs officials discovered it."

Distribution formula for HD funds possible

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — State Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff may ask the 1973 legislature to establish a formula to govern distribution of the Highway Department's revenue.

Gathright said he is giving thought to that possibility and also to the prospect of introducing legislation to require specific priorities for road development.

Under the existing distribution formula, the state is carved into 10 districts with each of the five highway commissioners representing two districts.

About $40 million of the department's $75 million annual income is distributed among the commissioners on a basis that ignores traffic volume, number of vehicles, population or amount of revenue produced within each district, Gathright said.

"I haven't decided yet how I would want the formula changed," Gathright said. "But I think factors like population, traffic and production of revenue ought to be taken into account in some way."

Gathright introduced in the 1966 legislature a proposal for specific roadbuilding priorities. The Senate approved it, but the bill did not win approval in the House.

He said he may ask the 1973 General Assembly to give the idea another look.

The 1971 legislature approved a bill calling for a public vote on whether to issue $300 million in bonds for highway construction, but Gov. Dale Bumpers vetoed the measure.

Gathright, who cast the only "no" vote on that bond bill, says he expects a bond plan to come up again next year and that the legislature likely will approve it.

He voted against the 1971 bill, he said, because he doubted voters would approve it and did not want to spend the $250,000 a special statewide bond election would have cost. Bumpers cited the same grounds for exercising his veto.

If the highway commissioners "don't put forth some kind of rational priority system and commit themselves to it," the people won't approve a bond issue, Gathright said.

"Even if the commissioners do those things, they've still got a tremendous selling job to do," he said.

WR predicts Nixon will carry state

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller says President Nixon will be the first Republican presidential candidate to carry Arkansas.

Speaking in an interview, Rockefeller said he doubted that Nixon or his running mate, Vice President Agnew, would visit Arkansas during the campaign.

They will probably put in a maximum amount of time working in states with more voters, Rockefeller said.

"I don't think they're unappreciative of what we're doing here in Arkansas, it's just we're one of the smallest states and they have other people here to do the representation," he said.

Rockefeller, the state's Republican national committeeman, returned Thursday night after two weeks in Miami Beach, Fla., for the Republican National Convention.

Nixon ran second in 1968 in Arkansas to the American party candidacy of George Wallace, governor of Alabama.

Sandy McMath named deputy prosecutor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sandy McMath, 30, son of former Gov. Sid McMath, has been named chief deputy prosecutor for the 6th Judicial District, which is Pulaski and Perry counties, Pros. Atty. Jim Guy Tucker said Saturday.

McMath succeeds Robert J. Brown, who resigned to enter private practice.

Irving enters prison

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Author Clifford Irving, convicted of conspiracy and fraud in a fake autobiography of billionaire reclusive Howard Hughes, walked handcuffed into Lewisburg Penitentiary today to begin a 2½-year sentence.

Irving drove to Lewisburg with his attorney, Maurice Nessen, where he surrendered to a federal marshal. Then he was driven the 18 miles to the penitentiary's minimum security facility, Allenwood Farm, noted for producing upholstered furniture and desks for federal offices.

The tall author flew to New York from Florida Sunday.

Irving, 41, had spent the last 10 days in Sarasota, Fla., with his wife, Edith, 38, and their two sons. She joined them after completing a two-month jail sentence for her part in the hoax.

The Irvings, along with researcher Richard Suskind, pleaded guilty last June to charges that they swindled McGraw-Hill, Inc., out of $750,000 for the fake Hughes book.

Mrs. Irving plans to surrender to Swiss authorities next week on larceny and forgery charges, in connection with her depositing the McGraw-Hill checks in a Zurich bank.

College courses are set here

ARKADELPHIA—Henderson State College will offer college courses during the 1972 fall term at Hope High School for regular college credit.

Anyone with a high school diploma or 15 high school units is eligible to enroll. All courses offered will apply toward a college degree, according to Dr. Joe T. Clark, Vice President for Instructional Affairs.

All interested persons should attend an organizational meeting Tuesday, August 29, in the Administration Building of the Hope Public Schools at 7 p.m. to determine courses to be offered, meeting nights, and times.

The following three-credit hour courses are planned for the fall term—fundamental mathematics or college algebra, developmental reading, introduction to geography, american national government, introduction to speech, and introduction to business.

Other courses may be offered if the demand is sufficient. Cost is $16 per credit hour or $48 for a three-hour course.

Classes will begin the week following the Tuesday organizational meeting.

Persons interested in enrolling in a course for graduate credit must be admitted to the graduate program at Henderson State. Cost is $20 per credit hour or $60 for a three hours course.

Dems urge rejection of plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic majority of the Senate-House Economic Committee has urged a $250 billion spending ceiling advocated by President Nixon be rejected and that plans be made for future tax increases.

But the chairman of the committee—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., says he disagrees with both recommendations.

"There is far too much waste in every phase of the federal government to justify tax increases," the Wisconsin senator said Sunday. And he said a $240 billion ceiling would be sufficient.

Committee Republicans in their minority report stressed the increase in employment by 2.4 million in the last year.

Prince William dies in crash

WOLVERHAMPTON, England (AP) — Prince William of Gloucester, cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, crashed in his light plane during an air race today and died, police reported.

They said the copilot also perished.

The 30-year-old prince was ninth in the line of succession to the British throne.

His four-seater Piper Cherokee clipped a tree about a mile from the runway of Halfpenny Green Airport and spun into a hillcock, exploding on impact, witnesses said.

About America's First Food
A favored and famous food ingredient in our southern states, hominy got its name from the Indian word "tackhummin," meaning "to grind corn!"

The first commercially manufactured corn-cob pipe was made in 1869 by Henry Tibbe of Washington, Mo. To fill in the pipe's uneven surfaces, Mr. Tibbe used plaster of Paris!

A destructive insect called the European corn borer was responsible for the 1971 loss of $250 million worth of corn. Today, with the application of a modern insecticide like Diazinon, corn growers can effectively control this costly pest!

Total individuality in fall design

These designs from the Howard Wolf fall collection are for the casual life. Jumper dress (left) is patterned with a classic oversized houndstooth in bone/wine/green and worn with a ribbed turtleneck sweater. Shirt dress (center) with vest mate combines long clasped sleeves in ripe yellow, knot tie in orange and a swirl of gray pleats. Plaid is in all three colors. Trio for carefree living (right) teams pants of black acrylic, long-cuffed yellow shirt and a short shrink, argyle sweater.

By HELEN HENNESSY

NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The theme for the Howard Wolf fashion collection for fall and winter '72 is "total individuality," said Bill Becker, president of the firm. Their designers definitely achieved this aim.

One of the highlights of the collection is that a whole coordinated wardrobe emerges with a designer look and, best of all, at common-sense prices.

This is the result of the careful attention paid to detail in the creating and manufacturing of the clothes. Another plus is the all-seasons look of the line.

Becker refers to the collection as "now and then" clothes. "There is no time of year during which they can't be worn."

The market has not responded to the consumers' needs, Becker believes. "The manufacturers are waiting for something to happen," he said. "But nothing happens until you offer something."

"In July-August," he continued, "the market doesn't have summer clothes and fall clothes just aren't feasible. We design a complete line for that time of year because we feel it is our responsibility. And, amazingly, when the market goes to hell in August, these clothes sell like crazy."

Becker feels that knits are important but that they must have more design than they now have. "It's not enough just to show a comfortable knit," he said.

He doesn't believe that pants are dead as a fashion for women. "The market may say that," he added, "but the public doesn't say that at all."

This latest collection is chock full of luxurious, casually elegant designs with just the right look for today's life style.

Luncheon complements Miss Marjorie Royston

Two parties in Little Rock and two in Hope, all for the former Marjorie Royston, are of interest to friends of this recent bride of Joe B. Scruggs, III of Little Rock.

The Pleasant Valley Country Club of Little Rock was the setting for an August 3rd luncheon. Hostesses for the 14 guests were Mrs. Bernice Orr and Mrs. Peggy Fitzhugh. The honoree wore grey and white cotton, and a yellow and white color scheme was used on the table. A gift of silver was presented at this entertainment and also at a punch party August 5 in the home of Mrs. Duane King with Miss Janet Jernigan as co-hostess. The 24 guests, including the mothers of the wedding couple, were served a delicious variety of party refreshments.

Mrs. Cecil O'Steen, Mrs. Hubert Thrash and Mrs. James Connelly honored her with a breakfast at the Heritage House in Hope on August 10. She wore navy and green and a corsage of orchid aster-mums. These flowers were the kind used with zinnias to decorate the table, where covers were laid for 12, including the mothers of the couple. The hostesses presented their honored guest a gift of china in her chosen pattern.

On her wedding day, August 12, a Bridal Brunch was given in the home of Mrs. J.W. Franks with Mrs. Bruce Munson, Mrs. Adella Marie Quillin, Mrs. Jim James, Mrs. L.T. Lawrence and Miss Beth Lawrence as co-hostesses. The honoree pinned orchid carnations and asters to her grey and black checked dress, and orchid mums were given to the mothers of the wedding couple. Orchid asters, purple mums and pink carnations decorated the quartet tables on the patio where the tasty brunch was served. The hostesses' gift to the honoree was an Habachi.

Red, white, blue theme is used

Tambra Dee Cornelius was 10 years old August 24 and her mother, Mrs. D. June Cornelius, had a party for her at Fair Park. Her grandmother, Mrs. Howard Trippitt, Sr., and great-grandmother, Mrs. Cora Johnson, assisted in directing games and in serving refreshments.

The group of young friends enjoyed red punch and red, white and blue cup cakes topped with individual American flags. The guests were: Dawn Gary, Ann Porter, Terri Tippitt, Sherri Simmons, Renell and Belinda Williams, Renea, Joey and Jeffery Griffis, Scott and Brian Brown, Diane Dunn, Jena, Julia and Robert Holt, Leslie and Chad Cornelius.

Helen Bottel Helen Help Us!

Run, Don't Walk to Exit

Dear Helen:
My mother-in-law is not quite 40, attractive, and makes it very apparent that she is available. I love my wife, and I try not to be alone with this sexy dame who seems determined to teach me about older women. My wife won't believe that her mother would chase a 25-year-old guy, especially her son-in-law. Instead, she accuses me of thinking I'm irresistible, because I moonlight as model for men's fashion magazines. (It's good pay.) She's real happy that "her family likes me so well."

Her mother liked me so well the other night that I darn near lost my honor or whatever a man loses when his m-in-law seduces him. After all, I'm human, and when she asks, "What does a mere girl know, compared to an experienced woman?" I have to admit I get curious.

We live in the same apartment building, and my wife is going to night school twice a week. Inasmuch as she won't listen or believe, I'm tempted to let it happen, just to show her. Or should I lock the door on my wife's nights out? — MODEL HUSBAND, SO FAR Dear Model:

If you're this tempted, a locked door won't stay locked. Go apartment hunting on your wife's nights out, and insist on a move to the other side of town. Mama may cool down when you aren't so readily available. —H. Dear Helen:

I sympathize with "Black and Blue and Sleepless" whose husband snores so loudly he wakes himself up, then punches HER for "waking him."

My husband doesn't snore, but he used to make noises like a dive bomber in his sleep. He said when he was a little boy his Air Force brother taught him to make this noise, and it became a habit.

I have almost cured him by simply placing my fingers on his mouth, very lightly, when he "goes into a dive." "Touching" is a sign of affection and he doesn't resent it—actually it doesn't even awaken him.

Maybe this will help other women who have snoring mates. —JEANETTE Dear Jeanette:

I sent your tip to "Black and Blue and Sleepless," and back came this note: "Thanks, but...I tried placing my fingers on my husband's snoring mouth—and he bit me." Maybe it will work for other wives, we hope, we hope...—H. Dear Helen:

Did Adam and Eve have navels? Sure!

God made Adam as a model for those who were to follow him. He wouldn't change the pattern, so Adam came complete.

When He created Eve, he had to give her a navel too, or she would have griped her head off, for equal rights; (though women would have looked better without navels, in their fig leaf bathing suits).

Too bad Eve didn't behave herself. Maybe getting a navel of her own made her uppity, so she got them kicked out of the Garden of Eden and, ever since, her descendants have been stuck with the laundry and cooking—and producing babies the hard way. —AN OC-TOGENARIAN

MRS. TERRY DWAIN TURNER

Hope couple weds in evening rite

Miss Rita Jane Taylor and Terry Dwain Turner were wed August 18 in the First Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Orval Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Turner of Hope.

Rev. Gerald Trussell performed the double ring ceremony.

Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Arthur Stretch, organist, and Ken Trout pianist. Soloist, Miss Tommie Lou Watson, sang "Some Where," "Time For Us", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Candle lighters were Yvonne Fry, niece of the bride, and Gavin Russell, cousin of the bride.

Alan D. Verser served as best man. Groomsmen were Danny Ray Turner, Dennis Edward Turner, brothers of the groom, and Marion Michael Monroe. Ushers were Eddie Fry, Jimmy Fry, Ken Allen, and Jack Faulkner.

Given in marriage by her father the bride chose a gown of Delustered peau de soie featuring an empire demi bell skirt with venise lace and tiny blue bows on the bodice and mandarin neckline, and camelot sleeves with painted cuffs.

Her tiered bow was of venise lace accented with pearls and secured to English silk illusion and edged in scalloped venise lace flowed into cathedral length mantilla train.

She carried a nosegay of fleur d' amour centered with white daisies.

For something old the bride carried an Irish linen handkerchief belonging to her great grandmother. For good luck she wore a six-pence in her shoe.

Her sister, Mrs. Eddie Fry, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Marion Michael Monroe, Mrs. Larry White, Miss Delia Jordan. Miss Anglia Fry, niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

They all wore identical dresses of printed blue and green voile over blue taffeta. They wore Southern Bell blue bonnets, and each carried a white basket of blue, green, and yellow summer flowers.

The altar was flanked by greenery of smilax and pastel blue candles, with candles lining the isles of the church with blue and green ribbon.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall for the guest.

The serving table was covered with white taffeta overlaid with satin and net. At each corner of the table was a nosegay. The centerpiece was blue, green, yellow, and white daisies. With Queen Anne's lace and blue candles in a silver candelabrum.

The white tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue and green roses.

Mrs. Danny Ray Turner and Mrs. Dennis Edward Turner served the cake.

Mrs. David Griffen and Miss Nan Hogan served punch.

Mrs. Hinton Davis introduced the guests to the receiving line.

Others in the House Party were Mrs. MacDowell Turner, Mrs. James Connelly, Shonnou Russell, Judy Huneycutt, and Mrs. Larry Brown.

A common problem

Hair loss after pregnancy

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I enjoy reading your column and hope you can help me. I am 25 years old and have two children. Since I've had them I seem to be losing a lot of hair. I have been told that a person who has been given gas during delivery will lose hair afterward.

I wonder if I'm lacking a certain protein or vitamin. I can scratch my scalp and the hair just falls out. I am on the nervous side lately. I also have been taking diet pills off and on for the past two years. I really don't need them now since I lost all the weight I wanted to lose.

My little girl, who is 3 years old, has long blond hair which hasn't been cut since she was born. It hasn't seemed to grow any more during the past year and her hair seems to be falling out. This is another reason I wonder if we're lacking a vitamin or protein.

I should mention that I have an oily skin problem and wash my hair twice a week.

Dear Reader—It is common for women to lose hair after pregnancy. The condition is temporary and usually disappears within a year after delivery. This, however, has nothing to do with having a gas anesthetic for the delivery.

There are many causes for excessive loss of hair including nervousness. In this regard, if you're already "on the nervous side," I'm not sure that taking diet pills which usually cause nervousness is the best idea. Since you've lost all the weight you intend to, you should discontinue this practice entirely. If you diet in the future, it might be wise for you to avoid diet pills.

Some endocrine disorders including a low thyroid function can contribute to loss of hair and also oily scalp. The most frequent cause of loss of hair, however, is excessive beauty treatments that many women take, whether they are done at home or commercially. Anything which pulls the hair too tight or a hair style which pulls the hair tightly will aggravate the normal loss of hair.

Repeated uses of tints and dyes at too frequent intervals also can damage the hair follicles and result in loss of hair. Harsh shampoos used too frequently can also cause difficulty rather than helping. As a general measure I usually recommend to people with falling hair to try to wash their hair about once a week with a mild shampoo, and to leave the hair loose and natural. Brush with a soft brush. If you continue to have a lot of falling hair ask your doctor about it. He may wish to do some tests to see how your endocrine glands are functioning.

Regarding your little girl, hair is constantly being lost and replaced. All animals do this. Some do it by seasons, and this is the typical shedding or molting season. In humans the follicles produce hair on a staggered time basis so that some new hair is always being formed, and some old hair is reaching its normal life span continuously. Otherwise, we would have a molting season too.

Hair does have a definite limit to the length it will grow. When it gets to this length it stops growing and tends to fall. I suspect that this is the case with your little girl.

Leo the Lip makes debut Sunday with Astro win

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Leo Durocher says the Houston Astros can catch the Cincinnati Reds ... and Leo the Lip isn't talking through Harry Walker's hat.

The 66-year-old Durocher is wearing his own hat these days as manager of the Astros and his debut Sunday—one day after Houston fired Harry "The Hat" Walker—was a winning one by an 8-2 score over Montreal.

"The guys were all relaxed and happy," said Durocher, who was canned himself one month earlier by the Chicago Cubs. "It's been a long time since players, like most of the ballclub, came up and said congratulations and let's get 25 more."

Even 25 more might not help the Astros, who remained eight games behind Cincinnati in baseball's National League

JACK NICKLAUS

Layoff didn't hurt Jackson

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Reggie Jackson has a pain in the ribs, but is just a pain in the neck to the Baltimore Orioles.

"In a way, my injury is good because it's keeping me from swinging too hard," said Jackson after driving in both runs despite torn rib cartilages as the Oakland A's beat the Orioles 2-1 Sunday.

Jackson came back to work just last Friday night after spending two weeks on the disabled list. Obviously the layoff didn't hurt—Jackson hit a home run in his first appearance since Aug. 9.

"I thought I might be a little rusty," said the slugger, who drove in Oakland's tying run with a single in the third inning and then the winning run with an eighth-inning double Sunday. "I never allowed myself to think that I might not be ready to come back, though."

Silver medal first for U.S. in Munich

MUNICH (AP) — The United States won its first medal of the 20th Olympics today — a silver in small bore rifle shooting — and can win its first two golds tonight if American swimmers continue their assault on Olympic records.

America also has a solid chance for at least a bronze in women's diving.

Li-Ho-jun of North Korea broke both the Olympic and world records in the small bore rifle shoot with 599 out of a possible 600.

Vic Auer of North Hollywood, Calif., tied for the silver medal with Nicolae Rotaru of Romania with 598, which tied the old Olympic record.

Mark Spitz of Carmichael, Calif., sped through his 200-meter butterfly qualifying heat in 2:02.11, one of three Americans to shatter the old Olympic standard of 2:06.6 set by Australia's Kevin Berry in 1964. The other U.S. record-breakers in the event were Gary Hall of Garden Grove, Calif., timed in 2:03.70 and Robin Backhaus of Redlands, Calif., timed in 2:03.11.

In the men's 100-meter backstroke, the Olympic standard of 58.7 seconds set by East Germany's Roland Matthes in 1968, fell twice to Americans.

First, Mike Stamm of San Diego, Calif., was timed in 58.63 and then Mitch Ivey of San Jose, Calif., lowered the mark to 58.15. Matthes won his heat in 1:00.01.

Meanwhile, there was good news for pole vaulter Bob Seagren. The International Amateur Athletic Federation reversed itself and said he can use the pole with which he set his world record. Seagren took the news calmly.

Themen's 200-meter butterfly and 400-meter freestyle relay are the premier events of today's program, along with women's three-meter springboard diving and 200-meter individual medley.

Spitz, the bronzed and mustachioed Californian who holds the world butterfly record of 2:01.53, will be going after the first two of seven gold medals he expects to take home—as he is constantly being reminded. Micki King, an Air Force captain from Pontiac, Mich., stands in third place in the springboard diving with 289.14 points. She trails two Swedish blondes, Ulrika Knape, with 292.59 points, and Agneta Henriksson, with 290.79.

The strongest U.S. hope in the women's 200 individual medley was Lynn Vidali of San Francisco.

In another prime final today, the U.S. women's gymnasts appeared to be out of medal contention. The American girls stood in fifth place, although led by a dazzling performance by 19-year-old Cathy Rigby. The Soviet Union was in first place.

The IAAF banned Seagren's slender, green pole for Olympic use earlier this summer, saying it had not been available to athletes elsewhere in the world at least one year before the Games.

But George Moore, maker of the poles, appeared before the IAAF Sunday and argued: "Every world-class athlete who could possibly have come to the Games had access to them late last year."

The IAAF decided he was right.

Told of the decision Seagren said: "Naturally, I'm pleased. I guess it'll give me a psychological advantage because I set the world record on it ... I don't think it makes that much of a difference. But I'm happy they agreed we weren't trying to use anything illegal."

U.S. athletes had an unexpected success Sunday when the first American soccer team ever to make it to the Olympics held Morocco, which has six players with World Cup experience, to a scoreless tie in opening play.

The U.S. basketball team did what it was expected to do, crushing Czechoslovakia 66-35, thus moving on to Australia today. It was the 56th straight victory in Olympic Games for Americans, who have never been defeated.

The strong American eight-oar crew, with six Harvard graduates among them, whipped West Germany's crew, winner of the gold medal in 1968, by a length and qualified for the semifinals. Shells from New Zealand and Russia won the other two preliminary heats.

In addition, the American pairs with coxswain made it to the semifinals by pulling in three lengths ahead of Poland.

The other U.S. crews—four with cox, pairs with cox, fours without cox, single and double sculls—could still qualify for the finals by winning in the repechage, or second chance, heats.

Featherweight Louis Self of Toledo, Ohio, won his first boxing match, taking a unanimous decision. In wrestling, Dan Gable of Waterloo, Iowa, 149.5 pounds; Rich Sanders of Lake View, Ore., 125.5, and Gene Davis of Missoula, Mont., 136.5, all pinned their opponents.

But 400-pound Chris Taylor of Dowagiac, Mich., met his match in Alexander Medved, the Soviet Union's 290-pound world champion who won on points.

AIP can succeed: Anderson

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Even without the candidacy of Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, the American party can succeed, the party's vice presidential nominee said here Saturday.

Tom Anderson of Nashville, Tenn., running mate of California Rep. John Schmitz, added however, that he did not know if the party's presidential ticket could win this year.

Speaking at a news conference here, Anderson said the Republican and Democratic parties were "Socialist party A and Socialist party B."

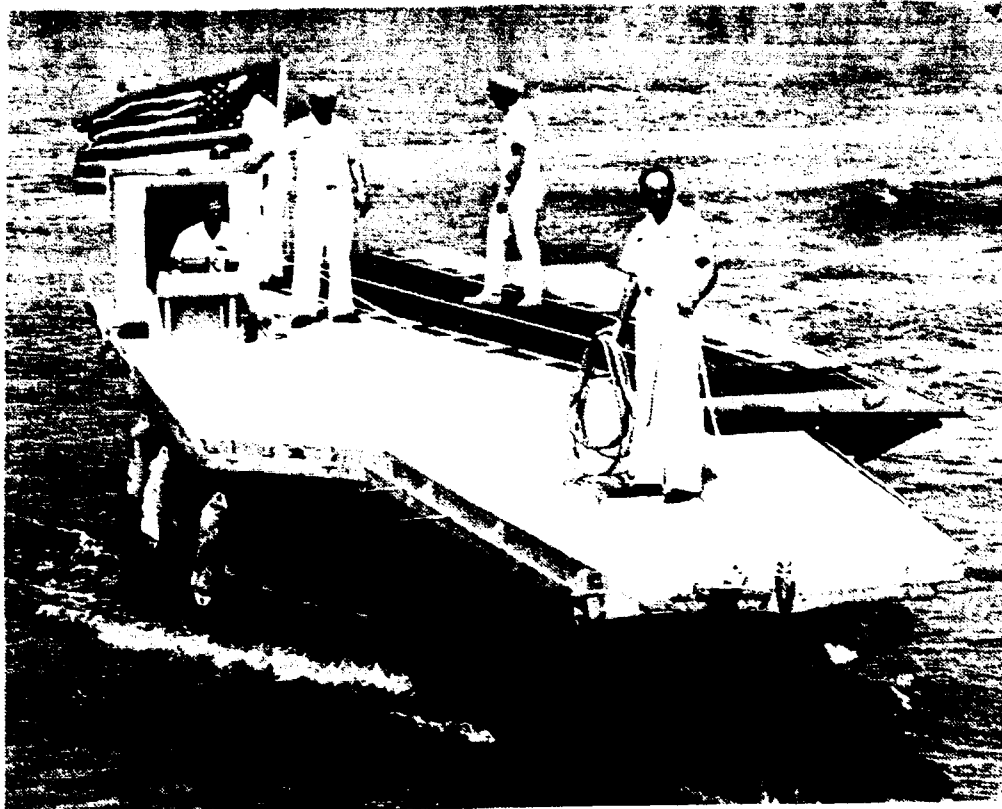

The American party movement, he said, is "a holy crusade, which is what it is going to take to save the country."

The ticket could carry some states in the Nov. 7 general election, Anderson said. He declined to name those he thought it might carry.

President Nixon is a "phony conservative," he said. For conservatives to back Nixon would be "like a bunch of Indians applauding a John Wayne movie," Anderson said.

"So many people despise Richard Nixon, but are scared to death of George McGovern," Anderson said.

He added that Nixon was such "a complete political animal" that the country "might be a little better off" with McGovern as president.

NAVY, ANYONE? is the recruiting purpose of this 53-foot miniature flattop, the Enterprise Jr., as it churns up the Mississippi bound for Omaha, Neb., and gob-gathering. It spent the last five years at Seattle, Wash.

Minesweeper in Haiphong

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Communist Chinese mine-sweeper has slipped into Haiphong harbor for the first time since the U.S. Navy sealed seven North Vietnamese ports with mines last May.

Intelligence sources suggested the action could be a forerunner to an effort to reopen North Vietnam's most important port.

Pentagon officials said the single minesweeper, which reportedly has not yet attempted any clearing operations, would have only limited effect by itself. But they are watching for reinforcements.

Officials stressed the United States intends to keep the ports closed and that fresh mines would be laid to replace any that are removed.

And they left open the possibility that U.S. air and naval units might attack to stop attempts to clear the channel into Haiphong.

U.S. warplanes struck heavily in the Haiphong area over the weekend but there was no indication the minesweeper was hit.

Intelligence specialists identified the Chinese-built craft as a Woosung class minesweeper, a 136-foot ship believed capable of clearing acoustic and possibly magnetic mines.

The minesweeper normally operates in the Shanghai area, they said.

Escapee, wife are captured

DEVIL'S JUMP, Ky. (AP) — A jail escapee and his wife, accused of kidnapping six persons during a flight from Florida to Tennessee, have been captured in a wooded area near the Great Smoky Mountains.

William Elisha Davidson, 27, and his wife, Ella, 28, were taken into custody Sunday about 12 hours after they released the hostages.

They were held in the Madison County jail in Richmond, Ky., Sunday night, and were to be arraigned today, the FBI reported.

Agents said they would be charged with kidnapping and interstate transportation of six persons.

The Davidsons offered no resistance when they were arrested.

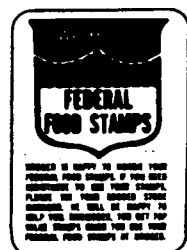

Hamlin said a search party of about 75 FBI, state and county officers began combing the area early Sunday morning.

The Davidsons were captured shortly before noon.

Don Abbott is Rotary speaker

Don Abbott, Hempstead County Memorial Hospital's administrator, discussed present and future building plans for the hospital at a meeting of the Hope Rotary Club Friday, August 25 at the Town and Country. The speaker said that with the anticipated expansion of the city of Hope's population in the next few years, it was mandatory that the facilities at the hospital also be increased.

He outlined plans for proposed improvements that will cost approximately $150,000 and can be paid for out of operating expenses and will not require federal funds. A new laboratory to be built in about two months will be followed by another X-ray department, 40 additional bed units, and better facilities for medical records, he said.

As the administrator spoke, he pointed to a sketch showing the projected construction. He was introduced by Rotarian Ray Lawrence, who had arranged for his appearance. Larry Patterson, chairman of the Memorial Hospital Board, was also introduced by Lawrence.

Vice president Bob Gullett presided over the business meeting, gave a report on a recent board meeting, and welcomed the guests that included Bill Elredge of Little Rock, Charles Jester and David Brown.

Agnew says he is interested in '72

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says he does not care whether delegate apportionment rules at the 1976 Republican National Convention might help him gain the presidential nomination because "I'm interested in 1972."

"I don't care. I really don't at this point," Agnew said Sunday when asked about the delegate rules fight which conservatives won at last week's GOP convention.

"I think all this talk about '76 is debilitating to the party, it's counterproductive and I think it's four years away so it's an eternity in politics we shouldn't be discussing," Agnew said during an appearance on NBC's "Meet The Press."

The delegate allotment method set aside is expected to give Agnew an advantage at the next convention if he decides to seek the presidential nomitrates" the vice president's nation.

Agnew said that on the campaign trail for the upcoming election his actions won't be inconsistent with Nixon's but that it would be a "mistake" to think the "President orchestrates" because of misunderstanding by others. He said he hadn't changed his principles over the past five years but had in some cases changed his approach. For instance, he said, he has dropped "radical-liberal" from his vocabulary because of misunderstanding by others.

Agnew said, however, he will continue to speak out, particularly to counter the "unbelievable" rhetoric of Democratic presidential nominee Sen. George McGovern. He added, "where they assault the President or the administration in a personal way, as he has done, I am not going to hesitate to respond to that."

Oswald: "All bidding rules are made to be broken at the right time."

Jim: "How about the rule that you should not use Blackwood when void of a suit?"

Oswald: "Here is a simple example of a time when a player does use Blackwood. Not in spite of having a void, but rather because of having a void."

Jim: "When South used Blackwood and then jumped to seven after North denied possession of an ace, there was the usual question: 'What would you have bid if North showed you an ace?'"

Oswald: "South did not reply immediately. He was a great believer in avoiding conversation when he had a hand to play. Then he ruffed the diamond lead and proceeded to run out the grand slam. Actually, he had some slight problems but they all disappeared when both opponents followed to his trump lead since he could now claim on a cross ruff."

Jim: "South still did not answer the question about what he would have bid if North had shown an ace, but we will answer for him. South would have undoubtedly settled for a small slam. Once North showed that his four-spade bid did not include the ace of diamonds, South was willing to gamble on the grand slam."

One assassin? Two? Controversy is still raging

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A forensic pathologist who concluded that it was "physically impossible" for only one gunman to have slain former President John F. Kennedy says "extremely relevant" evidence is missing from records of Kennedy's autopsy in the National Archives.

Dr. Cyril H. Wecht, Allegheny County coroner, is quoted in today's Pittsburgh Post-Gazette as calling the Kennedy assassination an "incomplete case."

"Very important pieces of evidence are simply absent with no comment on their whereabouts," Wecht told the newspaper.

Among the missing materials, Wecht said, are photographs, microscopic slides and Kennedy's brain, which he said was to have been preserved.

He said he would ask Burke

Marshall, executor of the Kennedy estate, to authorize a complete review of the autopsy materials by a team of pathologists, radiologists and criminologists.

"Let's have an honest and full review," Wecht told the Post-Gazette in a telephone interview from Connecticut. "Let's cut out the games."

Wecht, who analyzed the autopsy materials last week, asserted at a news conference that the Warren Report's single-assassin theory is incorrect.

"The fact is that the physical evidence shows that not one person could have been the shooter," he declared. "There had to have been at least two people shooting."

A longtime critic of the Warren Report, Wecht said his findings hinge on a theory that one bullet wounded Kennedy in the back seat of his limousine and struck and passed through former Texas Gov. John B. Connally, who was riding in the front seat.

Runnerup is Miss Black America

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Linda Barney is the new Miss Black America but only because Diane Jackson didn't want the title.

Miss Jackson, 22, of Los Angeles was crowned before a Hollywood Palladium crowd of 700 Saturday night and promptly announced she was giving up the title to accept a singing contract.

She turned and placed the crown on the head of the 19-year-old New Jersey pre-medical student, first runner-up in the contest that drew black beauties from 36 states.

J. Morris Anderson, producer of the five-year-old festival, said later that Miss Jackson's action was "not spur of the moment." He said others had influenced her, seeking to harm the event.

Wecht said the single bullet theory "is absolutely untenable from a scientific standpoint."

Anderson would not elaborate but said he was consulting with attorneys and planned to meet with newsmen later this week.

Anderson said Miss Barney, 19, will receive the title prize.

"I was quite amazed by the pristine shape of the bullet," he continued. "When one examines the bullet and the various films, there can be no question that the bullet did not traverse the bodies of two men."

Wecht's findings also clashed with a report by Dr. George K. Lattimer, the first private physician to examine X-rays of Kennedy's body.

In his study last January, Lattimer said he was convinced Kennedy was fatally wounded by a single assassin.

Lattimer, chairman of the department of urology at the Columbia University of Physicians and Surgeons, said X-rays showed the single bullet passed through both Kennedy and Connally.

Asked about the conflict between his assertions and Lattimer's report, Wecht said the New York doctor "is a urologist and deals with kidneys. This is completely out of his field of expertise..."

He also said Lattimer had spent only three or four hours in the archives.

Wecht claimed Lattimer was chosen as the first private physician to examine the X-rays "because he had made himself a pro-government buff on this..."

and when I realized it, it was too late," said the senior from South Bend. "Bankruptcy saved my grade point and chances for graduate school."

Prof. Gates Agnew, chairman of a committee reviewing the system, said he does not yet have conclusive statistics on whether "bankruptcy is supporting a lame duck or allowing its wing to heal so it can take off and fly."

"We're trying to find a bureaucratic way to avoid victimization of students without nurturing idleness and opening Pandora's Box," he said.

New school idea: bankruptcy

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Befuddled students with grade problems can declare "academic bankruptcy" at Indiana University and return to school without a grade point deficit hanging over their heads.

Among the 100 students in the College of Arts and Sciences who have asked to throw out a semester's worth of poor work are pregnant coeds, a youth whose mother was dying of cancer and those with crumbling love affairs or family and psychiatric problems.

They say this has kept them from going broke scholastically and helped "humanize" higher education.

The actual marks cannot be expunged from a transcript. But the one "bankrupt semester" allowed per student for any reason is not figured in their grade point average.

School officials say the experimental program, now in its second semester, is a step toward eliminating all Ds and Fs and making the transcript a record of proficiency — not failure.

Dean Kenneth Gros Louis, 34-year-old originator of the program, said it indicates "a greater awareness of students as persons and the difficulties of living when you're between 17 and 22."

"If leniency means humanizing an institution, then I'm all for it," he said.

Most academically bankrupt students are freshmen with traditional problems of identity and orientation at a school that could be larger than their home town.

One exasperated freshman dropped out after four weeks to hitchhike to California. Four months later he returned to "bankrupt" the lost semester and score straight A's.

"I wish I'd declared bankruptcy," said one pretty English major. "I ruined my grades and my love life. Now it's too late to patch up either."

A typical case is that of Harold Stafford, news editor of the Daily Student. Stafford declared bankruptcy after he crammed in too much journalism and not enough studying.

"I simply worked too hard for pickup trucks to haul trailers and hold camper bodies.

In 1970, General Motors sold 560,000 pickup trucks. In 1971 the figure rose to 680,000 units and then soared to 540,000 in only the first six months of 1972. Catching on, some automotive dealers now sell RVs as well.

To call some of these vehicles home is, as even a fleeting glance will show, a bit of an overstatement. But it is no exaggeration for others, which have modern appliances and comforts, and their number is growing.

"A lot of these people don't miss a thing in their rolling homes," says one manufacturer. "They have their TV sets, air-conditioning, modern appliances and other conveniences."

The industry has compiled statistics showing that the average RV family — 4.1 persons, headed by a white-collar worker, 45, making $12,000 plus — spends 10 per cent of its time in its vehicle.

Production is soaring to accommodate buyers. Fewer than 100,000 units were shipped in 1961, but the total this year will be more than 600,000, and dollar volume might reach $2 billion.

The dollar figure is actually growing faster than the unit increase as buyers move up from the small, hut-like camping trailers to huge, bus-like motor homes and to the latest rage, "fifth-wheel" travel trailers.

That fifth-wheel designation seems to be a misnomer, but the label sticks. The wheel really is the coupling device that clamps the trailer's front over the rear of a pickup truck.

Business mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If you are on the road Labor Day weekend, you might obtain the impression that some Americans are not content to have a mere second home but that they must have one that moves.

That impression precisely describes the feelings of recreation vehicle owners. There are about four million RVs on the road. More than half a million join the ranks each year. They are growing in size also. And they are being used year-round.

This life style is catching on so suddenly that some of the business community can't seem to understand it.

In Wall Street, for example, analysts who otherwise are adept at making distinctions continue to confuse recreational vehicles with mobile homes when, in fact, the two industries are quite distinct.

Mobile homes are rarely seen on the road. They do have wheels and they can be towed, but generally their mobility is restricted to a trip from the dealer to a permanent site, where they are attached to a foundation.

Broadly speaking, that leaves most of the other housing accommodations being towed or driven or hauled along the turnpikes in the RV category, which means they are generally travel trailers, camper trailers, truck campers, pickup covers or motor homes.

Even the big automotive manufacturers, which stand to be among the biggest gainers from the boom, were surprised a year or so ago when they noticed a sudden rise in demand for pickup trucks to haul trailers and hold camper bodies.

In 1970, General Motors sold 560,000 pickup trucks. In 1971 the figure rose to 680,000 units and then soared to 540,000 in only the first six months of 1972. Catching on, some automotive dealers now sell RVs as well.

People in the News

STONEWALL, Tex. (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson marked his 64th birthday with a quiet day at the LBJ Ranch.

A spokesman said that Johnson and his wife, Lady Bird, spent Sunday at the ranchhouse with no special festivities planned.

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI has sent his blessings to the athletes and organizers of the Olympic Games.

The pontiff told the crowd which gathered Sunday at his summer retreat that he had watched the opening of the Olympics in Munich on television.

Earlier, in a message to the archbishop of Munich, Julius Cardinal Döpfner, Pope Paul said he hoped the games would lead the peoples of the world to mutual understanding, social justice and peace.

SAIGON (AP) — Rear Adm. Mark W. Woods has taken command of the U.S. Pacific Fleet's cruiser-destroyer force, which includes 124 ships and 40,000 men.

The changeover came during ceremonies aboard the guided missile cruiser Providence of the coast of Vietnam, the Navy announced Sunday. The force, which is based at San Diego, Calif., has about a third of its ships in Vietnamese waters.

Woods, 54, is a native of Whitehall, Mont., and previously served as commander of cruiser-destroyer Flotilla 9, which also is in the area.

He succeeds Rear Adm. Sheldon H. Kinney, who is retiring Sept. 1.

BRUSSELS (AP) — Jozsef Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary says he is "worried for the future of his people" and has called on them to preserve their national existence through faith.

The cardinal made the remark Sunday when he joined a large congregation in Brussels' Sacred Heart Basilica on Sunday to pray for the "liberation of Hungary and the freedom of faith."

Some 3,000 Hungarian refugees living in West Germany, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg thronged to the basilica to celebrate the 1,000th anniversary of St. Stephen, their first king and patron saint.

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka says he thinks Japan and Communist China eventually will sign a peace treaty.

Although a technical state of war still exists between the two nations, Tanaka said Sunday, he added that the problem will be "resolved in a natural way" with diplomatic ties.
